Commercials to be Quieter Thanks to the CALM Act

If for years you've been thinking that commercials were louder than TV programs, you weren't imagining things. COMMERCIALS OFTEN WERE LOUDER. In fact, enough people complained about this annoying practice that action was taken.

Federal Communications Commission (FCC) rules now require commercials to have the same average volume as the programs they accompany. In the Commercial Advertisement Loudness Mitigation (CALM) Act, Congress directed the FCC to establish these rules, and they went into effect on December 13, 2012. Hopefully, this means you won't have to grab the remote to lower the volume every time a commercial comes on.

But if you continue to hear commercials that seem overly loud, you can file a complaint with the FCC's Consumer Call Center at 1-888-CALL-FCC (1-888-225-5322).

Celebrate National Ag Day

National Ag Day, sponsored by the Agriculture Council of America (ACA), celebrates and recognizes the contributions of agriculture in our daily lives. In 2013, National Ag Day falls on March 19. This is during National Ag Week, which takes place March 17-23.

National Ag Day is acknowledged by producers, agricultural associations, corporations, universities, and government agencies; the ACA encourages people in these and other organizations to create local Ag Day events. Event ideas include breakfasts, pizza parties, fairs, farmers' markets, petting zoos, displays at local malls or libraries, and field trips to local farms.

These events serve several purposes:

- Show the essential role of agriculture in maintaining a strong economy
- Help people understand how food and fiber products are produced
- Help people appreciate the role agriculture plays in providing safe, affordable products
- Encourage young people to consider career opportunities in agriculture

Woodstock Telephone Company salutes National Ag Day, and says thanks to all those in our community who work so hard to bring us the food and fiber products our country needs.
